Course Description

This is a multidisciplinary conference, designed to bring physicians together to discuss the complex and nuanced care of the endocrine surgery patient. Patient cases will be selected for presentation and the available treatment options will be explored. Vendors will be invited to share what is available from their company in diagnosing and treating endocrine surgery patients.

Learning Objectives

- Recognize the different genetic and molecular testing that are available and how to utilize these modalities in determining treatment plans for patients with surgical endocrine disorders.
- Incorporate an interdisciplinary approach to the recognition, diagnosis, and management of patients with surgical endocrine disorders.
- Recognize the proper application of different surgical and medical procedures to patients with surgical endocrine disorders.
- Identify the roles and responsibilities of members of the healthcare team involved in the collaborative care of patients with endocrine disorders.
- Integrate a team-based approach in the care of patients with endocrine disorders.

Target Audience

This conference is intended for practicing endocrinologists, internists, medical oncologists, nuclear medicine physicians and technologists, otolaryngologists, radiologists, radiation oncologists, surgeons, physicians, residents, fellows, physician assistants, nurses, nurse practitioners, and any other healthcare professionals with an interest in patients with endocrine problems.

Accreditation

In support of improving patient care, MedStar Health is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE) and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

Credit Designation

This activity was planned by and for the healthcare team, and learners will receive 1.00 Interprofessional Continuing Education (IPCE) credits for learning and change.

Physicians: MedStar Health designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
